DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 3-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Juntgen et al. or Tang (US 4201695, 5215017).

Juntgen and Tang both disclose a flow limiting inlet structure comprising a set of nested baffles (see Figs. 1-2 and 2 respectively).

3. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by German document (DE 3305344).

German document discloses a storm water detention system (see Figs. 2-4).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over German document '344 in view of Juntgen et al. or Tang.

Art Unit: 3673

German document discloses the invention substantially as claimed. However, it is silent about having the baffle arrangement as called for in claim 2. Juntgen et al. and Tang both teach the baffle arrangement as called for in claim 2. It would have been considered obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify German document by substituting the baffle arrangement as taught by either Juntgen or Tang for the baffle arrangement disclosed by German document in order to more effectively filter the stormwater.
